VICE PRESIDENT MARSHALL'S EXPOSITION MESSAGE TO THE NATION

The stages of my life seem to have been marked by national expositions. My young manhood began with the Centennial. Maturity was marked by the Columbian and the Louisiana Purchase. And now the sunset years bring me to this marvel of the Republic upon the shores of the sunset seas. So often have I thought I saw the Pillars of Hercules inscribed with their "ne plus ultra," that I hesitate to say that I have reached them. But they who build this Panama-Pacific Exposition were so wise in adopting all the good features and avoiding those which marred the preceding ones that to me it seems as near perfection as the mind and hand of man have ever wrought. Whoever can, even at a sacrifice of something which for the moment appears necessary, should come to see a real work of art never equaled even by a mirage. If there be any one in America with a thirst for knowledge and for beauty and a longing for a liberal education such an one can here obtain it. This is the university of the world. It has a chair fully endowed to meet the wants and needs of each. The eye, the ear, the mind, the heart, the soul each may have its horizon here enlarged. I came to bear a message. I remained to become a student. I leave the feet of this Gamaliel of all expositions with regret.

THOMAS R. MARSHALL.
